NO FASTING THIS WEEK

Bright Week (the week following Holy Pascha) is an immediate joyful extension of the Sunday of Pascha. The services on each day of this glorious week are substantially the same as on the Sunday of Pascha. Because of our overflowing joy in the Resurrection of our Saviour, no fasting is permitted during this week. All foods may be eaten, even on Wednesday and Friday.

THIS WEEK'S ANNOUNCEMENTS

Why do we dye Easter eggs red? Red is symbolic of Christ's Passion and is the traditional color for Easter eggs in the Orthodox Church. This custom goes back to the earliest days of the Church. Holy Tradition records that St. Mary Magdalene traveled to Rome where she presented Tiberias Caesar with a red egg and greeted him with the words "Christ is risen!"

The paschal greeting, Christ is risen!, and the response, Truly, He is risen!, are exchanged many times during the services of the Church from the Sunday of Pascha until the Leave-taking of the Feast, thirty nine days later. But this paschal greeting is not a mere liturgical formula. It is a greeting to be exchanged daily during the entire Paschal season between all believing Christians as a proclamation of our faith in the risen Lord!

We do not kneel or make prostrations either in services at church or during prayer at home during the Fifty Days between Pascha and Pentecost (as well as all the Sundays of the year). Following a tradition that comes down from the holy Apostles, Orthodox Christians have ever held that kneeling is incompatible with the joy of the Resurrection we experience during the Fifty Days and on all Sundays. Whenever we would ordinarily kneel or make a prostration during prayer on these days, we make a bow from the waist (metania) instead.

The Paschal Office, a short service of prayer, replaces the daily services of the Hours, Compline, and the Midnight Office during Bright Week and on the Leave-taking of Pascha. The faithful also say the Paschal Office as a replacement for their morning and evening prayers on these days. In Russian practice, the Paschal Office is always sung, never simply read, thereby underscoring our overflowing joy in Christ's Resurrection. The Office consists of the Paschal Troparion, the hymn Having beheld the resurrection of Christ..., the Hypakoï and kontakion of the Feast, and a few other paschal hymns. The Paschal Office is a beautiful distillation of the joyful prayer of the Feast. You may find the text of the Paschal Office in The Jordanville Prayer Book

The Order of Preparation for Holy Communion is modified during Bright Week. The Office begins with the opening prayer, Through the prayers of our holy fathers... and a three-fold singing of the Paschal Troparion, Christ is risen from the dead.... The usual first part of the Office is omitted (the first Trisagion prayers, the three psalms, the troparia, and Psalm 50) and the Canon for Holy Communion is read immediately. The remainder of the Office is then read, as usual. The paschal megalynarion, Shine, shine, O New Jerusalem..., may appropriately replace It is truly meet... at the conclusion of the canon. After the Trisagion prayers following the canon, the Paschal Troparion is sung instead of the penitential troparia. The Order concludes with the Pre-Communion Prayers.

The entrance prayers before the Liturgy during Bright Week are performed in the following manner. After the usual initial exclamation, Blessed is our God..., there is read: Christ is risen from the dead... thrice, and the Hypakoï and Kontakion of Pascha. Instead of the penitential troparia, Have mercy on us, O Lord, have mercy on us..., the troparia of the Paschal Hours are read: In the tomb bodily..., Glory..., How life-bearing..., Both now..., and the theotokion: O sanctified and divine tabernacle.... Then: We worship Thine immaculate icon, O Good One... and As thou art a well-spring of compassion... Then the prayer: O Lord, stretch forth Thy hand...; and instead of the psalm I shall go into Thy house..., the troparion of Pascha is said many times.

We sing the words of the paschal troparion Christ is risen from the dead, trampling down death by death, and on those in the tombs bestowing life! many times in the liturgical services for forty days from the Sunday of Pascha. Like the paschal greeting, the paschal troparion proclaims our faith in the triumph of Christ over death. Because of this, we should not only sing it in church, but also at home. Appropriate times to sing Christ is risen... are before meals throughout the Paschal Season and at the beginning of our morning and evening prayers from Thomas Sunday until the Leave-taking of Pascha.

The introductory prayers Glory to Thee, our God. Glory to Thee! and O heavenly King... are not said either in the liturgical services or in prayers at home from Holy Pascha until the Feast of Pentecost, according to the tradition of the Church.

During the forty days from the Sunday of Pascha until its Leave-taking, according to the tradition of the Church, the prayers Glory to Thee, our God. Glory to Thee! and O Heavenly King... are replaced by the triple repetition of the paschal troparion. In services during the Paschal Season that do not begin with O heavenly King... and the Trisagion Prayers, but instead with the O come, let us worship and fall down before God our King..., the paschal troparion is repeated three times instead of O come, let us worship....
